Where did my salary go?
The question you ask every 10th of the month...
Coffee here, delivery there,
and the moment you see the word "sale," you tell yourself: can't miss it...

The problem is those small expenses, one after another, that you never feel, and they swallow your salary.
Every month you say: next month I'll save. And it's the same scenario again....

So, is there a solution?
The solution is one step.....
The Spendee app...

Why?
Because with it you can track your income and expenses,
it sets a budget for you, and you spend within it,
it warns you when your budget is running low,
and on some plans you can create a wallet and share it with your family.

Your salary used to stay only for the first 10 days of the month.
With SPENDEE... it will stay much longer.
